

17th March 2020

BUSINESS UPDATE – MARKET COMPLEXITIES

Weathertex is always committed in providing the highest level of quality product, service and transparency to our customers. This guides us during the difficult and challenging period we find ourselves in, in response to our current market and COVID-19.

With the current problems and complexities of the overseas market situation and overseas supplies difficult to procure, it now makes more sense to buy Australian. Fortunately, Weathertex products are made and manufactured in Australia so we have stock readily available.

From a health perspective, we continue to closely monitor the COVID-19 situation and recommendations of the World Health Organisation, Australian Government and the Australian Medical Association. At this stage, Weathertex remains operational with no anticipated interruptions to our customers.

Our own risk management strategy is being rolled out to protect our staff, their families, and everyone that we work with in the extended industry.

This strategy is precautionary, and has been established so that Weathertex can continue to provide our clients with the quality of service Weathertex is known for, and we plan to maintain "business as usual".

It is important that we take a calm and balanced view, making sensible decisions in the best interests of everyone working in or associated with Weathertex.

We will continue to provide communication updates, as we respond to the challenges of the COVID-19.

Thank you for your understanding, as Weathertex is sure your own businesses are in a similar position - we look forward to working through this together.

Stay safe and well from all of us at Weathertex.

Jason O'Hagan
Managing Director